Some Thoughts on California Conservation Week

By C. Edward Graves

This is California Conservation Week. The fact that it is also World Government Week probably does not indicate any lack of co-operation between the two groups but merely a failure to check the calendar of "Weeks" carefully. As a former librarian, I remember receiving the California Conservation Week material regularly many years before the birth of the United Nations. It is exceedingly important that a working world government should be developed in which there would be genuine co-operation in the handling of the natural resources of the world, but unless there is a rapid awakening of the need of an intelligent conservation policy on the part of national governments there will soon be no world left to be governed.

That sounds like a very radical statement but it is really a carefully considered one. Several books have recently appeared that will bear out this contention. One of the most important is Fairfield Osborn's "Our Plundered Planet", published about a year ago and available in the Harrison Memorial Library. A reading of this book should open the eyes of anyone who is complacent about the future of life on this earth. Perhaps the following quotation will keynote Mr. Osborn's thesis:

"The tide of the earth's population is rising, the reservoir of the earth's living resources is falling. Technologists may outdo them."

Elizabeth White

Elizabeth McClung White, well known Carmel resident, passed away Thursday morning at a local hospital following a month's illness. She had been in ill health for some time prior to that.

Mrs. White first came to Carmel in 1922, and for a time was associated with the Carmel Investment Company. She later opened her own real estate office on Ocean Avenue, which she ran up until her retirement about three years ago. One of the Carmel developments she interested herself in was the building of the "sand and sea" houses on the sand dunes north of Ocean Avenue.

Prominent in local civic activities, she was a patron of the Carmel Art Gallery for many years. Always devoted to Carmel, she never gave up fighting for what she considered in the best interests of the community, and she is credited with preventing many things which might have destroyed Carmel's charm.

She was a native of Alabama, and her great grandfather was at one time governor of that state.

Surviving are two nieces, Elizabeth White and Mrs. E. F. Woods of Georgia, and a nephew, Dwight Wales, of Washington.

Funeral services are pending word from Mr. Wales. Paul's Mortuary is in charge of arrangements.

Kathie Von Meier as Jane and Bill Marquardt as Rochester in Jane Eyre, senior play at Sunset Auditorium tonight.

City Lot And Army Building May Solve Boys' Club Problem

A three-man committee consisting of Donald Craig, Gene Ricketts and P. A. McCreery, was appointed by Mayor Fred Godwin at a special meeting held Tuesday to determine possible locations for the erection of a permanent Carmel Boys' Club building.

The committee will consider several of the city-owned lots as possibilities, and will also discuss the matter of making a trade with M. J. Murphy Company of two lots at Fourth and Torres with two Carmel-owned lots at Mission at Seventh.

Eugene Harrah reported that he has been corresponding with military authorities regarding the possibility of acquiring one of the army recreation buildings to be used as a nucleus for the club building.

LIBRARY BOND ELECTION

City council passed a resolution of intention to call a bond election for $35,000 to finance additions to the Harrison Memorial Library at its meeting Wednesday night.

It accepted the petition of property owners presented by Col. Philip Schneeberger to abandon Del Mar Avenue and initiated proceedings. Mayor Fred Godwin was authorized to grant easement to the Sanitary District for a sewer line down Del Mar and a pumping substation on the dunes at the foot of Eighth Avenue.

H. S. Senior Class Presents Jane Eyre At Sunset Tonight

Tonight at Sunset Auditorium the Senior Class of Carmel High School will present Jane Eyre. The members of the cast and the production staff have worked hard and the final results promise to be extremely rewarding.

Kathie von Meier has the title role and Bill Marquardt is Mr. Rochester. Other members of the cast are: Benita Updike as Leah; Laurel Hildebrand, Mrs. Fairfax; Jackie Briggs, Grace Poole; Margot Campbell, the Woman; Juliette Poulichet, Adele; Ruth van Niel, Lady Ingram; Jennifer Lloyd, Blanche; Ardith Morrisseau, Mary; Aram Toolilian, Frederick Lynn; Dick Taplin, Mr. Mason; and Garry Shaw, Mr. Wood.

The members of the production staff are: Blake Lyle, Stage Manager; Cynthia Carr, Assistant Stage Manager; Marj Glennon, Mistress of Properties; Nancy Page, Prompter; Bob Burgess, Electrician; Dick Sumner, Special Effects; Nancy McGill and Beverly Wightman, Wardrobe Mistresses; Joyce Bannerman, Georgann Bell and Gloriann Douglas, Make-up; Connie Melchoir and Floyd Adams, Stage Crew; Hilary Carnson and Gunnar Reimers, Publicity Managers; Pat Timbers and Patsy Canoles, House Managers; Louise Harber, Head Usher; and Nancy Dasonville, Connie Melchoir, Marilyn Powell, Art Harber, Dan Holmes, Gunnar Reimers and Harry Watson, Ushers. Music off-stage is provided by Gloriann Douglas and June Kocher.

The Carmel High School orchestra under the direction of Mr. John Farr will play the overture and intermission music.

Tickets will be on sale at the box (Continued on Page Sixteen)

4 City Trees Succumb To March Gale

First casualty of the March gales came Thursday afternoon when two city owned pine trees at the corner of Santa Fe and First fell across a fence and power lines, cutting off lights and telephone of the house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Benson.

One was a 50 foot pine, about two and a half feet in diameter; the other somewhat smaller.

Two other trees were threatening to fall on the roof of the building, when the city street answered an emergency summons and on the authority of Street Commissioner Gene Ricketts, removed the trees.

The trees had been leaning dangerously for some time, according to Enos Farrat, agent who has charge of the property.

Wednesday night a small acacia tree on San Antonio street fell in the wind. No damage resulted.

Next Symphony Especially Worthy Of Warm Support

By Col. P. Schneeberger

The two conductors of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra, Clifford Anderson and Lorell McCann, will share honors in leading this organization through its next concert on March 15. This concert, like the first of the season, is being sponsored by the Carmel Lions Club. Besides the allure that the fine symphonic program has for music-lovers, it should have a special appeal to students and those interested in civic welfare. For the Lions share of the proceeds is being devoted to installation of radiant heat in the concrete decks of the Carmel High School swimming pool, a project worthy of warmest support.

The first half of the program will be under the baton of Anderson, Monterey. His major selection will be the large and finale of Dvorak's New World Symphony, in which the composer records his impression of Negro and Indian music he heard on his visit to America. Anderson also will conduct two Mendelssohn numbers, the Ruy Blas Overture composed for Victor Hugo's play and the Capriccio Brilliant in B Minor, a short concerto that will be presented by John Price, a talented young piano student of Pacific Grove.

Lorell McCann of Salinas will lead the orchestra through the second part of the concert, starting off with the well known dances from Smetana's Bartered Bride. These are followed by Walter's Prize Song from Wagner's Meistersinger, the stirring Capriccio Italien by Tchaikowsky, and ending the program with Johann Strauss' gay Emperor Waltz.

AND STILL MORE RAIN

Carmel residents have been drenched most of this week by several storms which have swept in from the Pacific. The new rains are more than double to that received last year at this time, with about 14 inches being recorded for the season up to date.

Total for the week, 1.01; for this year to date, 13.34; last year to date, 7.23.

Margot Campbell, rehearsing the mad scene in the senior play, Jane Eyre, to be presented at Sunset Auditorium tonight at 8:00 o'clock. Miss Campbell plays the part of Bertha, wife of Rochester.

PG CAGERS OUTWAIT

MONTEREY TO WIN, 15 TO 12
Declining to accept Monterey's invitation to play a man-for-man defense, the Pacific Grove High School hoopers showed a wealth of patience last Friday night and wound up with the mythical CCAL championship. The PG players made no effort to penetrate the highly effective Breaker zone defense and contented themselves with playing a ball-control type of game. The Monterey backline performers would withhold the ball from play for two or three minutes at a time, while the spectators relaxed in their lucky seats and took a short snooze.

Halftime score of this uninteresting, but different, game was a 5-5 tie. The third period ended with Monterey enjoying a slim 10-9 lead. Making one of their few mistakes of the evening, the Greenshirts allowed Bill Conlan to sneak into the key for a very coveted two-pointer which proved to be the clincher for the Grove. That Kelly and DeLormier pitched in three more points had little consequence except to give the Breakers a more secure feeling in the last two minutes.

Playing before a capacity audience, both teams showed signs of nervous strain throughout the contest. Several easy-crip shots were missed which could have turned the tide in either direction. Pacific Grove completely controlled the backboards and proved that the Toreadors played a right smart game in trying to freeze the ball. Nino Aiello, Monterey's All-CCAL forward, topped all the scorers with 7 digits which is way below par for this high-scoring forward.

By winning this game, the Breakers earned the dubious privilege of meeting the powerful Lowell Indians in the Berkeley Tournament of Champions. Lowell is reputed to be the outstanding high school basketball team in the state and figure to be more than a match for the towering Breakers. Regardless of their outcome in the tourney, the PG boys have played championship basketball this season and richly deserve the CCAL championship.

ABALONE LEAGUERS SCHEDULE ORGANIZATION MEETING

Plans for an early opening of Abalone League softball activities will be on the agenda when interested pastimers get together next Tuesday night. Meeting place will be the high school gym at 8 o'clock. Expected to be on hand to add their years of Abalone League experience to organization plans are Allen Knight, Howard Timbers, Doc Staniford, Mike Balazs, Gene Ricketts, Art Hull, Kenny Roberts, Cliff Cook, George Mosolf, Charley Childers, Ernie Morehouse, Andy Weiman, and Andy Del Monte. Election of Captains, scheduling, clarification of rules, player personnel, and site of play will be discussed.

EXTRA NIGHT ADDED TO ADULT SCHOOL BADMINTON SCHEDULE

Heretofore badminton in the Adult School program has been confined to Tuesday and Thursday nights, but the sport has become so popular with Carmel racquet enthusiasts that it has been necessary to add another night of play. Starting next week, the Carmel High School gym will be available for badminton play on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights, from 7:30 to 10 o'clock. Coach Mosolf will supervise the Tuesday and Thursday sessions, while John Westover will be on hand Wednesday night. These badminton sessions are open to men and women and there is no charge for participation. Racquets are (Continued on Page Fifteen)

PLAY CRICKET?
Seasoned cricket players are rallying for the Del Monte Cricket Club's 1949 contests, but more players are needed and any cricket enthusiasts, experienced or not, are urged to attend the first practice. This is to be held at Carmel High School (weather permitting) on Sunday, March 13, at 1 p.m., and if enough potential players show up, a pick-up game will be organized.

George Calvert, the Club's most successful all-round player last year, will captain the Club this year. Active members from last season who will be on hand Sunday are: Vic Mantilla, Alex Merivale, Jim Southwell, Sidney Barson, Jack Clothier, Sidney Taylor, George Calvert, John Simpson-Atmore, Ernie Hill, Al Williams, John Grandfield, Eric Petrie, Hank Waters, Dr. Richard Still and Ronald Smallridge.

Interested cricketers should get in touch with Alex Merivale, secretary, Box 536, Carmel, or phone Carmel 1478-W.

The Time Has Come ..

By Kippy Stuart

Goody! Goody! At last somebody has talked back at me! I have implored friends to write this column, correcting errors, or making suggestions. The request has been ignored and I have taken it for granted that there were no readers. What good is a column if it does not stir controversy and debate? In the Pine Cone, for March 4, I received two come-upances. First one. The open letter to the Pine Cone editor resenting our acacia trees and signed by initials only. Ah, I wish A.S. would come out from behind those false whiskers and let me sympathize with him,—her. Allergy is a dreadful thing. All around us are victims of allergies. I have friends who cannot tolerate starch; others to whom protein is anathema. Another friend cannot sleep on a feather pillow; another cannot go into a room that has housed a dog. Our greatest sufferers in Carmel dread the pine tree. Carmel pine tree pollen can run close to second to ragweed any day.

Growing things in a simple garden can raise Cain too. Primula malacoides and primula ployanthus act as though they were poison oak to some humans. These delicate blossoms exude a poison that causes a skin affliction. I could go on and on, deploring the pranks of nature and offering my sympathy. But, what shall the public do? Abolish meat and bread, abolish pine and acacia trees, dogs and feather pillows? I leave this question to open debate. I offer my sympathy wholeheartedly to all so afflicted by nature that they cannot enjoy garden beauty and gastronomic thrills.

My second "come-upance" was from Mrs. Alfred Balsam. Oh dear, those earth worms again. I really have an excuse on this count. The discussion of earthworms between Mrs. Balmer and myself took place at a highly successful cocktail party, where anything can happen. Mrs. Balmer kept repeating, "cornmeal, Kippy". I kept repeating, "But, I have so much sawdust". That night while Mrs. Balmer was moaning and tossing in her sleep, I too was moaning and tossing. She was muttering to herself "cornmeal": I was still muttering "sawdust". Pine Cone readers should be grateful for this happening for Mrs. Balmer's letter scintillated with wit and mirth. Her skill with putting words together, is erudite; her ability to express herself is epic. Apology to all earthworms. Cornmeal... not sawdust.

Councilman Craig Makes Fire Report

Fire losses for the year 1948 in the City of Carmel were the lowest of any year since 1943, according to a report compiled by Donald Craig and made to the city council at the Wednesday night meeting.

During the past year, losses amounted to $2,048 compared to $4,537 for the preceding twelve months. The year 1943 was a record one, however, with a loss of only $132.50.

Property involved in fires in 1948 came to a total of $192,000 with $73,500 estimated for the year before.

Since 1941 losses in all have amounted to $28,793 with the property involved being in the neighborhood of $1,584,350.

There was a total of 231 fire and ambulance calls during 1948, according to Craig's report, as against 237 for 1947. In 1941 there were 160 calls.

The fire department is a volunteer organization and handles both fire and ambulance calls.

CHS students are in the movies! It's true!—Mr. Stuart Mitchell, Superintendent of Schools and Principal of CHS is taking color films of all the various campus activities in preparation of a special Public Schools Week PTA meeting at which time Carmel will have a chance to see firsthand just what goes on in the schools.

Six Carmel students have been chosen to participate in all-conference music groups which will perform before the Far Western Division Conference of the National Music Educators Conference in Sacramento, April 13. Members of the all-conference chorus will be Edelen Cory and Joan Daniels, sopranos, Patsy Canoles and Nancy Brown, altos, and Bill Albee, tenor. Elton Clark has been chosen to play French horn in the band. Mr. and Mrs. Farr also expect to attend the conference.

Frank Richey, a junior, has been chosen as our representative to the third annual convention of the California Association of Student Councils; this year to be held in Hawthorn, California from March 24-26.

The annual spring convention of the California Scholarship Federation, Central California District, is coming up again. This year it's to be held Saturday, March 19, at Asilomar, with the Carmel CSF chapter acting as assistant chairman of the affair. CHS representatives to the general planning committee, including the three peninsula high schools, are Jennifer Lloyd, Kathie von Meier, and Joan Daniels, as well as Mrs. Elise Beaton, faculty adviser. As we are in charge of the luncheon for the convention, members of the local group will be responsible for planning the decorations, seating arrangement, food, and entertainment following the meal. Mr. Edward Kincaid's art classes will handle the decorations for Merrill Hall, while each of the three Peninsula schools will contribute to the entertainment.

WORLD GOVERNMENT

CITIZENS' MASS MEETING

Sunset Auditorium, Carmel, Saturday, March 12—7:30 P. M.

CAN WORLD WAR III BE PREVENTED?

This Problem Must Be Solved

Preventing World War III is incomparably our most important problem. President Truman says so. Secretary Marshall said so. General Eisenhower says so. Nobody disagrees.

Do you agree?

Because of the terrible destructiveness of the A-bomb and other weapons of science, even the victor will be ruined, if war comes again. General Arnold says that we might ultimately win a war with Russia "but that would be little satisfaction for the remnants of our population crawling amid the charred chimneys and burnt-out foundations of our ruined cities."

A way to prevent war must be found.

What are you going to do about it?

Decision in so vital a matter cannot safely be left to a few men in Washington. The best solution is certain only if it grows out of a grass-roots understanding by all of the American people.

That means you

This Saturday night MASS MEETING will help you understand. It is not partisan. It will consider all three of the most discussed proposals for international organization to prevent another war.

Can you afford not to come?

YOUTH PROGRAM At 7:30 p. m. the three best student orators in the Monterey, Pacific Grove and Carmel High Schools will give five minute talks on "Why I Believe in World Government." Cash prizes for the three, with a gold medal for the winner. JUDGES: Admiral Raymond Spruance, Carmel Martin and Fred Workman. Also, prize winning World Government Posters will be displayed with cash prizes for the best produced in the three high schools. JUDGES: Kent Daniels, Hoyland Bettinger, Dan Runyon. At 8 p. m. the adults will take over; but come early and be proud of our young people.

ADMISSION FREE THE MASS MEETING IS SPONSORED BY THE CARMEL ADULT EDUCATION PROGRAM. ADMISSION IS FREE TO EVERYONE.

OUTSTANDING SPEAKERS

DR. REMSEN BIRD

FORMER PRESIDENT OF OCCIDENTAL COLLEGE,
—will be Moderator and explain the vital need for a solution.

MRS. ALFRED DEKKER

OF LOS ANGELES
—will speak for the American Association for the United Nations.
This organization, encouraged by UN achievements, feels that there is time for it to evolve into an agency capable of preventing war.

DR. EDGAR BISSANTZ

PACIFIC COAST DIRECTOR
—will speak for Federal Union, Inc.
This organization believes that a nuclear federation of established democracies is the first step, and once this is done, the hope is that other nations will join as they are prepared.

DR. RUSSELL LEE

HEAD OF THE PALO ALTO CLINIC
—will explain the program of the United World Federalists
This organization wants the UN Charter amended to turn it into a World Government of limited authority, but with sufficient power to enact and enforce world law and prevent World War III.

CAPTAIN W. A. ANGWIN

MEDICAL CORPS, U. S. NAVY, RETIRED

Love That Tree—The McGlynn Show

BY MARY-MADELEINE RIDDLE

The gradually growing murmurs here and there in professional art circles that perhaps the modernists have led painting down a futile dead end street is occasionally echoed by that informed segment of picture lovers and viewers who once approached all phases of modernism with an open and even reverent mind, unlike the larger part of the public which has always stoutly maintained "I like a picture to look like something I can recognize." It was interesting to me, then, to overhear several of those looking at the one man show of Thomas A. McGlynn's experienced work and some of the other things occasionally exhibited was startlingly in favor of the former. Whether amateur critics are forgetting that some of the work exhibited is done by amateurs as a hobby claiming no other pretensions; whether such reactions are significant of a new independence of professional critics and willingness to think and feel about pictures for one's self, or if such reaction indicates a trend back to the traditional and away from the abstract, it's always interesting to catch the public in the act of being the public.

I know that for myself, as another of the amateur ifrequent viewers, McGlynn's pictures made me feel, "Well, now, so it isn't really that we are prejudiced against the traditional but that we are unmoved by the trite; it's less that we object to paintings of recognizable things but that we long for beauty whether it's through delineation or impression." Anyhow, I join with the other on-lookers in finding McGlynn's paintings of trees in many moods full of feeling, beautifully painted, a pleasure to behold.

There is a surprising variety in the way this artist paints landscapes in which trees are usually the theme song. The lyric spring quality of the chartreuse golds in Golden Vale, for instance, is quite different from the golden cloud haze in Hilltop Pines, and both are different from the lacey delicacy of the birches in Winter's Song and Winter's Lace. McGlynn does not have the static palette which often becomes trade-mark for a painter: the blue in the shadow of Pines and Sea is not a darkened or lightened tone of the blue of the sea in Blue Cove, but a different vibrant color.

If you find yourself thinking curiously that these pictures would not look out of place in a very modern room, although they are not "modern" paintings, you might like to know that it is not so curious; many years of experience in the field of furniture design and interior decoration are behind these pictures, and seem to have enabled McGlynn to achieve that unrestricted quality characteristic of fine art.

Editorials...

(Continued from Page One) serves in the creation of artificial substitutes for natural subsistence, and new areas, such as those in tropical or sub-tropical regions, may be adapted to human use, but even such recourses or developments cannot be expected to offset the natural life-saving elements of the earth. There is only one solution: Man must recognize the necessity of co-operating with nature.

Co-operating with nature is something that we have seldom done in this country. We are still too close to the uninhibited pioneer stage in which everyone felt that he could take whatever he found, so long as it fattened his bank account. In fact, not even that condition was always necessary. Witness the mass killings of buffalo for pure sport—so-called! Now we have to re-educate ourselves in order to be able to withstand the selfish pressure groups in Washington who are constantly threatening this or that natural resource.

If the awakened individual should ask what he can do to help, a list of organizations could be given him that are working with pitifully small funds to protect our remaining resources. The California Forestry and Conservation Society, whose office is in Santa Barbara, is sponsoring California Conservation Week. Other organizations are the Sierra Club, with headquarters in San Francisco; the National Audubon Society (with a local branch); the Wilderness Society and the National Parks Ass'n of Washington, D.C., and the Izaak Walton League. Membership is open in any of these organizations and addresses can be furnished to anyone interested.

Full House Reception Assured Pasquier Trio Concert

It has been pointed out before that, just as in the field of literature, poetry is regarded as the most exalted form, so in the world of music it is ensemble compositions for string groups that hold the highest aesthetic delight.

Almost ten years ago the Carmel Music Society presented at one of its concerts the Pasquier Trio, and to all who heard those artists (three brothers, a violinist, a violist, a cellist), the experience was unforgettable. On tour in 1947, they performed in a private residence on the Peninsula, and this occasion, too, is a treasured memory for those who were invited to attend.

On Friday, March 11 the Pasquier Trio, once again in the United States, will regale a Carmel audience; this time in the beautiful new auditorium of the Woman's Club.

And a very strange thing has happened! The hall, which accommodates about three hundred, will be filled to capacity. Those interested in presenting the trio have telephoned to the "friends of music", whose support of such concerts was a matter of record, and the response would seem to indicate that "chamber music" or "the music of kings", as it has been called, was "good news" on this Peninsula. —J. P.

WINSLOW BOY GOING STRONG

With two capacity houses evidencing its sure-fire success, The Winslow Boy will have its third performance the coming Monday night. Presented by one of the most interesting casts ever to be recruited locally, all members being British-reared, the production has the authentic flavor necessary for projecting the intimate atmosphere of an English home. The story is exciting and moving, based on the famous Archer-Shee case at the turn of the century, in which an English father, outraged by his son's expulsion from school without fair trial, appealed to fundamental Constitutional law and ultimately rocked the existing Government administration back on its heels, achieving a triumphant democratic victory of the individual against a despotic branch of government. The play is under the direction of Edward Kuster.

MY MAN GODFREY

Dr. Billie's Garden

By L. A. W.

I don't need any further evidence than I already have that it has been a hard winter. But I have it anyhow. The birds are ravenous for fresh green stuff and for seeds just cropping out of the ground. First, they tried the early cabbage and broccoli I had set out. These were too tough for them and they spied the row of mustard and of radishes just peeping through. "Ha! This is our meat," and what they did to those two rows would make you weep. Somehow they missed the row of spinach. I didn't catch them at their depredations but I strongly suspect the culprits are the covey of quail I saw casing the joint the other morning. I counted 26 of them and, as the little girl said when she was sent to count the chickens, there was one that ran around so fast I couldn't count it. Pert and saucy they were, too.

So there was nothing to do but sow the rows over again. Then I went and brought out those chicken-wire strips I told about last year and carefully covered the new plantings—and the row of spinach, too, just in case. These wire tents will keep the varmints off for a while, maybe, until the plants get to be large enough to protect themselves. So, now the door is locked and our early salads will have to be postponed to a week or so later.

You know, it would be so easy to say we would have to have either the pleasure of the birds or the joy of a garden. Not at all. This either-or philosophy of life is all haywire. But just using a little ingenuity and doing a little more work the birds can still live to bring us joy with their lively darts, characteristic scratchings, rich colorings and joyous music while we can still have our salad garden. In other words, both birds and salads.

It isn't necessary to choose between ocean and shore, mountains and valleys, woods and plains, sky and treetops, rain and sunshine. Go read your Emerson's Essay on Compensation if you would have a less uncomfortable outlook upon life.

Of course there are times when we come up against the ought and ought not situation. We cannot serve God and Mammon at one and the same time. But why make moral issues where none exist? Birds have a right to their living and so do I. Why can't we mutually respect these rights and get along together? We, the birds and I, both have duties, too. There's room for both of us in this troubled old world.

Date Set For Hearing On Sanitary District Public May Attend

The petition for annexation to the Carmel Sanitary District by the Hatton Fields, Walker Tracts was presented at Monday night's meeting of the board. The petition was presented by General E. G. Chapmon, Captain C. J. Warner, Captain Archer M. Allen, Bud Foster and Paul H. Low.

April 4 was set as the date for the public hearing of protests. Following that, if the board votes in favor of the election, the date will be set for sometime within the following 60 days.

AQUARIUM SOCIETY EXHIBIT

Men, women and youth of the Carmel and the Monterey peninsula interested in the hobby of tropical fish breeding and aquarium life are invited to be on hand at the Salinas Community YMCA either on Saturday between 2-9:30 p.m. or on Sunday from 2:00-6:00 p.m. for the first annual exhibit of the Monterey Bay Aquarium Society. Over fifty varieties of tropical fish will be displayed and an opportunity offered to those interested to talk over problems dealing with the propagation of aquarium life.

In conjunction with this the annual Youth Hobby & Craft Talent Show for boys and girls of the Salinas area will be held. Both of these shows will be open without admittance fee and will be something which the entire family can enjoy.

NEW AGENCY FORMED

Formation of a new advertising and public relations agency to serve the Peninsula was announced last week by Walter H. Warfield and Fred L. Diefendorf. Diefendorf and Warfield, as the firm is named, will have its offices in the First National Bank Building in Monterey.

Mr. Warfield, most recently connected with Abinante's Music Stores, is secretary and a past president of the Monterey Kiwanis Club, and has a background of eight years experience in retail and department store advertising.

Mr. Diefendorf, a veteran San Francisco Bay newspaper and public relations man, is a member of the S. F. Press Club, Public Relations Round Table and Public Relations Society of America, and is the author of more than 300 national magazine stories.

Mr. and Mrs. Warfield and their three children are residents of Monterey, while the Diefendorfs and their son live in Carmel.

to help keep your electric bill low . . .

P.G. and E. makes lightning in the laboratory

The sharp crack of a lightning bolt may seem out of place in a lab . . . but it's one of the many ways P. G. and E.'s Bureau of Tests and Inspection helps keep your electric bills among the lowest in the nation. Technicians give this "trial by lightning" to power-line insulators to make sure they won't cause costly breakdowns. High voltages are built up on one side of an insulator until the electricity arcs around it through the air—a miniature lightning flash. If the insulator "punctures" or if the flash comes too soon at too low a voltage, the insulator is rejected.

The life of power poles depends on rot preventives below ground. P. G. and E. tests these, too . . . along with thousands of other things such as the breaking strength of cross-arms and the conducting efficiency of the wire they support.

Lower electric bills and dependable service are the result of these and other tests. They all add up to longer lasting, harder working, more economical materials in P. G. and E.'s generating plants and transmission lines.

For the record

Last year the Bureau inspected some 6,000,000 pounds of copper wire.

This wire helps distribute 553,000 electrical horsepower added since last May . . .

... to more than 60,000 new customers connected in 1948.

RESOLUTION NO. 273

A RESOLUTION PROVIDING FOR THE PUBLICATION OF PETITION FOR ANNEXATION BY ELECTION AS PROVIDED BY THE SANITARY DISTRICT ACT OF 1923, AS AMENDED.

WHEREAS, a petition verified by the affidavit of one of the petitioners has been presented to the Board which is signed by twenty-five percent of the freeholders residing in the territory proposed to be annexed as shown by the last equalized assessment roll of the County designating specifically the boundaries of the territory proposed to be annexed and its assessed valuation as shown by said last equalized assessment roll and that the aforesaid petition states that the territory is not within the limits of any other sanitary district and asks that said territory be annexed to the district; and

WHEREAS, the petition is accompanied by the certified check of Eben Whittlesey on the Monterey County Trust & Savings Bank in the sum of One Hundred Fifty Dollars ($150.00) to be filed in lieu of a bond as security, and until other suitable security is provided as security for the payment by the petitioners of the reasonable costs of the election on annexation, in the event that at the election less than a majority of the votes are cast in favor of annexation; and

WHEREAS, the Carmel Pine Cone-Cymbal of Carmel, California, is a newspaper of general circulation published in this Sanitary District; and

WHEREAS, publication of a notice is required stating the time when said petition will be presented to said Sanitary Board and that all persons interested may appear and be heard;

BE IT RESOLVED that the hearing be set for the 4th day of April, 1949, at the hour of 7:30 P. M. at the regular meeting place of the Carmel Sanitary Board, and that the petition and notice be advertised in the Carmel Pine Cone Cymbal of Carmel, California.

I HEREBY CERTIFY the foregoing to be a true record of a resolution adopted by the Sanitary Board of the Carmel Sanitary District, Monterey County, California, at a regular meeting thereof, held on the 7th day of March, 1949, by the following vote of the members thereof:

AYES: MEMBERS Evans, Pedder, Neill, Knight.

NOES: MEMBERS, None.

ABSENT: MEMBERS, Kellogg.

Signed: March 7th, 1949.

ALLEN KNIGHT,

President of the Sanitary Board.

Countersigned:

W. H. SATCHEL,

Secretary thereof.

VERIFIED PETITION SEEKING ANNEXATION OF CONTIGUOUS TERRITORY TO THE CARMEL SANITARY DISTRICT BY ELECTION IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE PROVISIONS OF SANITARY DISTRICT ACT OF 1923.

We, the undersigned freeholders represent to the Carmel Sanitary District and the members of the Board thereof:

1. That we are freeholders residing in the area proposed to be annexed to the District as shown by the Monterey County Assessment roll equalized in July, 1948.

2. That the boundaries of the territory proposed to be annexed are as follows:

PARCEL 1.

BEGINNING at a point in the boundary of the corporate limits of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, the same being the northwesterly boundary of Rancho Canada de la Segunda, (a point in the boundary of the Carmel Sanitary District), said point being at the intersection of said boundary line with the center line of Ocean Avenue; thence easterly along the center line of the California State highway; thence southerly along the center line of the aforesaid California State Highway to its intersection with the center line of the Carmel Valley county road; thence easterly along the center line of the aforesaid Carmel Valley county road to its intersection with the center line of Rio Road; thence southerly and southwesterly along the center line of the aforesaid Rio Road as shown on Map of Hatton Fields Tract 3A (said portion of Rio Road lying easterly of Block 40 in said tract) to its intersection with the center line of the California State highway; thence northwesterly and westerly along the center line of Rio Road, which is the southerly boundary of Hatton Fields Tract 3A, to its intersection with the southwesterly prolongation of the center line of Atherton Drive, as said block 40, Rio Road and Atherton Drive are shown on that certain map filed for record in the records of the County Recorder, County of Monterey, State of California, in Vol. 4 of Maps "Cities and Towns" at page 8; thence northwesterly and northerly along the center line of the said Rio Road to its intersection with the center line of Lasuen Drive as said Lasuen Drive is shown on that certain map entitled 3rd Addition to Mission Tract filed for record in the County Recorder's Office, County of Monterey, State of California, in Vol. 4 of Maps "Cities and Towns," page 57; thence southwesterly along the centerline of said Lasuen Drive and southwesterly along the centerline of Lasuen Drive to its intersection with the center line of Dolores Street as said Dolores Street is shown on the aforesaid Map of 3rd Addition to Mission Tract; thence westerly and northwesterly along the center line of Dolores Street to its intersection with the westerly extension of the common boundary of Lots 25 and 26 in Block 10, as said lots and block are shown and designated on that certain map entitled "THIRD ADDITION TO MISSION TRACT, a Subdivision of a Portion of Fractional Section 13, T. 16 S., R. 1 W., M.D.M., adjoining Carmel-by-the-Sea, California," filed for record May 20, 1941, in the office of the County Recorder of Monterey County, State of California, in Volume 4 of Maps, "Cities and Towns," at page 57; and running thence easterly along said common boundary to the southeast corner of said Lot 26; thence northwesterly along the common boundary of Lots 26 and 15; to the northeast corner of Lot 26; thence southwesterly along the common boundary of Lots 26 and 27 to the intersection of said common boundary with the westerly boundary of Lot 27; thence northwesterly along the westerly boundary of Lot 27 to the intersection of said boundary with the centerline of Franciscan Way; thence westerly along said centerline of Franciscan Way to the present eastern boundary of said Sanitary District, on Dolores Street and Franciscan Way; thence northwesterly along the center line of said Dolores Street to its intersection with the southwesterly prolongation of the southeasterly boundary of lots 3, block 9, Mission Tract as said lot and block are shown on that map entitled Map of 1st Addition to Mission Tract, filed for record in the office of the County Recorder, Monterey County, California, in Vol. 4, page 5, Maps "Cities and Towns;" thence northwesterly along the aforesaid prolongation and southwesterly boundary of lot 3, block 9 to the most easterly corner thereof; thence northwesterly along the northwesterly boundary of said Lot 3 to the most northerly corner thereof; thence southwesterly along the northwesterly boundary of said Lot 3 and the southwesterly prolongation thereof to its intersection with the center line of Dolores Street; thence northwesterly along the centerline of Dolores Street to its intersection with the southwesterly prolongation of the southeasterly boundary line of lot 1, block 9, 1st Addition to Mission Tract; thence northwesterly along the aforesaid prolongation and southeasterly boundary line to the most easterly corner of lot 1, block 9, thence northwesterly along the northwesterly boundary line of said lot and the northwesterly prolongation to its intersection with the southerly boundary of the Carmel Sanitary District; thence easterly along the aforesaid district boundary to its intersection with the northwesterly prolongation of the southwesterly boundary of lot 7, block 9; thence southeasterly along the aforesaid prolongation and boundary line to the most southerly corner of lot 7, block 9; thence northwesterly along the southeasterly boundary line of lot 7 to its most easterly corner thence northwesterly along the northwesterly boundary line of lot 7, block 9 and the northwesterly prolongation thereof to its intersection with the southerly boundary of the Carmel Sanitary District; thence easterly along the aforesaid district boundary to its intersection with the northwesterly prolongation of the southwesterly boundary of lot 12, block 9, First Addition to Mission Tract; thence southeasterly along the aforesaid prolongation and boundary line to its most southerly corner; thence southwesterly along the common boundaries of lots 11 and 14, 10 and 15, 9 and 16, block 9, to the most westerly corner of lot 16; thence southeasterly along the southwesterly boundary line of said lot 16 and the southeasterly prolongation to its intersection with the center line of Midvale Avenue, now Franciscan Way; thence northwesterly along the center line of said Franciscan Way to its intersection with the center line of Mission Street; thence easterly to the southwest corner of Lot 4, 3rd Addition to Mission Tract; thence easterly along the southerly boundary line of lot 4 to the southeast corner of said lot 4; thence northerly along the easterly boundaries of lots 4, 3 and 2 3rd Addition to Mission Tract and the northerly prolongation thereof to its intersection with the southerly boundary line of the Carmel Sanitary District in Santa Lucia Avenue; thence northwesterly along the aforesaid boundary line to the southeasterly corner of said district in Rio Road; thence northwesterly along said Carmel Sanitary District boundary line in Rio Road to San Carlos Street; thence northerly along said district boundary line in San Carlos Street to 12th Street; thence easterly along said district boundary line in 12th Street to the southeasterly corner of the Carmel Sanitary District (also the southeasterly corner of Carmel-by-the-Sea located in the boundary of the Rancho Canada de la Segunda 290.87' N of the North Line of Martin Road, as said Martin Road and Rancho boundary are shown on Map of Hatton Fields Tract filed for record in the County Recorder's Office, Salinas, California, in Vol. 3 of Maps "Cities and Towns" at page 31; thence northwesterly along the boundary of the Carmel Sanitary District (northwesterly boundary of Rancho Canada de la Segunda) to the point of beginning.

3. That the assessed valuation of the area proposed to be annexed as shown by the Monterey County Assessment Roll equalized in July, 1948, shows the assessed value of said territory to be:

PARCEL	LAND	IMPROVEMENTS	TOTAL
1	540.00	$594,340.00	$934,880.00

4. That the aforesaid territory is not within the limits of any other Sanitary District;

WHEREFORE your petitioners respectfully request the Sanitary Board of the Carmel Sanitary District and the honorable members thereof to take the necessary, proper and legal steps to alter the present existing boundaries of said Sanitary District so as to include within the altered boundaries the territory described heretofore in paragraph 2, the boundaries of which are specifically designated and that said contiguous territory be annexed to and become a part and parcel of said district as provided in Sections 6560-6568, incl., 6625-6628, incl. and 6830 and 6840-6855, incl. of the Health and Safety Code.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA)

COUNTY OF MONTEREY) ss.

E. G. Chapman being first duly sworn, deposes and says:

That he is one of the petitioners signing the foregoing petition; that according to the best information and belief of the affiant each signature is a genuine signature of the person whose name is purported to be thereunto subscribed, and a signature of freeholder residing in the district which is proposed for annexation.

E. G. CHAPMAN.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 25th day of February, 1949.

BY A. G. WARSHAWSKY

In my own studio I could work undisturbed as all my friends lived a good half hour's walk away. All the more reason for me to learn French as quickly as possible. So I bought a French newspaper every morning with my rolls and milk, and with the aid of a dictionary puzzled out the text. I learned the meaning of the inscriptions on street posters and shop fronts, and made a point of memorizing each day some sentences from Chardenal's French Grammar. Soon I was able to do my own shopping, and though my language must have sounded comical to the trades people, they never laughed and did their best to puzzle out the meaning of the weird sounds I emitted.

What the pitfalls of literal translation from one language to another can be, I also learned to my cost. Spending the evening with some French people I had met, I was attacked by a splitting headache and felt I must get back to my studio. Desiring to make explanation to my hosts for leaving so abruptly, I made the literal translation of "I must leave, I feel bad," which I phrased "Il faut que je pars, je sens mauvais," not realizing that I should have said, "Je me sens mal," since "sentir mauvais" means "to smell bad." This astounding avowal was too much for even French politeness, and the laughter that greeted it still rings in my ears. Such verbal faux pas were a speciality of mine in those days, and often caused me great embarrassment, for I never knew to what I might commit myself.

It was at the Villa Brune that I was first initiated into the amenities, the implications, and the embarrassments of Paris studio life. Rigny, Benton, and Kroll continued to look me up in my distant abode, and so did that amiable young person, Louise Saraszy, who would help to cook an extra dish whenever there was convivial feasting. I noticed that my landlady smiled approvingly at Louise's visits, and expressed real disappointment when I assured her that there was no likelihood of her becoming a fixture at the studio. Like St. Paul, it was Madame's conviction that it was not good for man to be alone, especially a young man who lives in a studio. What I needed to keep me happy and properly looked after was an angel in the household, in short, "une petite amie." This was a point of view I had not yet encountered among American landladies.

One of my studio neighbors was Marcel Lenoir, a French painter of some standing. As he suffered from lung trouble he would keep his studio door open all the year round. He was a tall thin figure, with long beard and long locks, always muffled up in scarves, even when he painted. Though himself a professed atheist, the subjects he treated were invariably of a religious nature, and his huge canvases were peopled with saints, martyrs, and angels. During the holiday season, Lenoir used to exhibit his lesser works in a small booth on the boulevards, where his mistress acted as vendor. Some of his drawings, really beautiful work, could be bought there for ridiculously small sums.

My neighborhood, that of the fortifications of Paris (later demolished) was a shabby and a sordid one. The fields near the old walls were occupied by squatters of every description, many of whom led a lawless existence, and even policemen knew better than to wander alone about the fortifs after dark. Nor were the constant funeral processions to the nearby cemetery calculated to enliven the daytime. There were days, grey, dark, and gloomy, filled with mist and drizzle, when I would experience intense pangs of homesickness. But a visit to the Louvre, or a friend's studio helped to cure me of the blues,

PASQUIER TRIO AT HOLLOW HILLS FARM

*Here in the gracious presence of a room
Decreed and built that music might be shared
Mozart and Bach returned: they do not die
To whom such immortality is given.
Beethoven spoke in fullness of great sound
As vital here in this soft-lighted space
As ever in his lifetime when he strode
The stormy hills of agony and joy.
So too the music of our time was played,
Dissonant interval and tensioned tone—
The clash and vibrancy that marks today
As cutting cleanly through the beauty known
To beauty sensed beyond all shattered forms.
Here for an hour true greatness moved in grace
Players became creators, merged and rose
Into that world where song itself is born;
And all who heard them knew that holy place.*

—D. H.

FROST

*Cold seeps like ruin through the rind;
Within, the frozen juice congeals
And in expansion leaves behind
A desolation of dead cells.
But frost which inwardly attacks
Our fruit so that no mark is shown,
Can probe into the moistured cracks
And claw a granite mountain down:
Few substances too hard for these to harm
These impalpable fingers on a giant arm.*

—J. S. MOODY.

AT CARMEL RIVER

(To The Man Who Shot the White Swan)

*Why did you kill the wild swan on the river?
A thing of beauty—a joy forever—
Did you think such a deed to be worthy or clever?
Violence and death are our portion . . . a rod
Hanging over us all, because you and your kind
Kill the swans of the river—
Kill the glory of life. Kill the beauty of God.*

—DEBORAH JOY.

AFTER THE FROST

*My garden looks the way I feel
When truth has scythed me down!
The happy high expansive leaves
Now dangle limp and brown.*

*The self-sufficient attitude
Of the aggressive bough
Bends earthward with humility . . .
Pride! you should see it now!*

*Who bragged and brayed the winter cold
And flung the sunward shoot,
Now withers shapelessly and stays
Repentant down to root.*

—DANIEL HAWTHORNE.

and to restore my courage to carry on with my studies.

The art world was just then in the throes of revolution, and Paris, as always, was the storm centre of the new upheaval. Academic traditions were being ruthlessly swept aside. Between the pitiless iconoclasts and the defenders of the old order, there was a small band of artists who tried to find a line of compromise. One of their favorite devices was to paint a blue line around everything, and it was strange to see how even a very academic painting would snap up with this blue outline. But the younger element, in their mania to emphasize form, set out deliberately to distort it. Horrible monsters, with arms and legs in the last state of elephantiasis, colored in crude green, violet, or scarlet, were painted from slim, delicate, ivory-tinted models. Agonizing landscapes with writhing, reeling forms, as if afflicted with the dance of St. Vitus, were hailed by critics as symphonies of rhythm and plastic design. Totem and idol of jungle Africa were studied and imitated by sophisticated Americans and Europeans. The cry was raised by these extremists that the moment had come to destroy, in the name of Liberty, in Art, all the Mastilles of academic tyranny, beginning with the Louvre and Luxembourg galleries. As for the art schools, they should be suppressed as temples of superstition. According to the new doctrine, Art should be visualized with the naive eyes of children and be rendered with the most primitive and simple means. As for craftsmanship, the sooner it disappeared, the better, since it merely served to hamper true creative impulse in the "natural genius," which was cropping up on all sides, and in the most unexpected quarters.

The cult of the naive at all costs became a rage. Had it not brought fame and fortune in the most unheard of places? In Montmartre a fried-potato merchant, who painted in his spare moments, leaped into fame, collectors and connoisseurs buying up his work, which sold more quickly than his hot potatoes. At St. Tropez, a fishing village in the south of France, a fisherman who painted boats to amuse himself, was "discovered" by a well known theatrical manager, who was down there on a vacation. Having persuaded the fisherman that his real career was painting pictures, not fishing, the manager arranged an exhibition of his protegee's works in the lobby of one of his Paris theatres, where his friends were brought to admire the new "master" and persuaded to buy his pictures. As a result of this boom, the picture market was for a while flooded with crude chromos of fishing boats.

A group of painters in Montmartre decided to exploit this hysteria and have some fun with the critics. Procuring a donkey, they tied a large paint brush to his tail, first dipping the brush into an assortment of colors. Then a canvas was set up within striking distance of the donkey's tail, which in its gyrations soon covered the canvas with a weird conglomeration of color—quite a stunning study in the new style, as the spectators all agreed. Witnesses and a notary, who had been invited to attend, attended to the manner in which the work had been done. This canvas was framed and sent to the Salon des Independants. It bore as title, if I remember rightly, Sunset on the Red Sea. After several well known critics had remarked it and written about it as a work of extraordinary interest, the story with the signatures of the witnesses was published, and the laugh was on the "new art" critics.

Nevertheless, one weird school followed another, all bent on the search for something new and sensational. Their most representative works were to be seen at the Salon des Independants, which was open to anyone who painted, drew, or sculptured. There was no jury; all that was required of an exhibitor was his application and the payment of a nominal fee for the hanging or placing of his work.

SUNSET SCHOOL NOTES

Katherine French's Second Grade.
We built a post office. We play in it. We have fun in our post office. In the post office there are stamps. The end.—Buddy Westcott.

We lost a little kitten. His name was Foggy. He always slept in bed with me.
—Pamela Conn.

Once my father and I went to the beach. We found shells. My little brother got them and threw them away.
—Katie Fry.

We have an alligator and he swims in the water. This morning the teacher warmed the water for the alligator. He will not eat when the water is not warm. He lives in an aquarium by himself. The teacher feeds him with tweezers. He almost swallows the tweezers. He twirls about on them as he grabs the meat because he won't let go.
—Wendy Draper.

I have a stamp collection. I like my stamp collection. I am glad that I have a stamp collection. Collections are fun to have. In fact, I love it. The end.
—Sue Mitchell.

I like my mother. She is a good mother. She helps me. I like my father. He is a good father. He helps me.
—Suzanne Belvail.

Mrs. Edna Lockwood's 2nd Grade

I am going to have a bunny for Easter. My sister Nancy is going to get a duck. She says "ga-ga" for duck and "bunny" for rabbit. I have baby sister, too, but she is too little to get a rabbit or a duck.
—Morgan Hind.

My sister Dee-dee had a birthday. She got some skates. She lets me use them and I am learning to skate. We skate on the screen porch.
—Lary Daniels.

I have a cat. He is the funniest thing. At night he tries to bite the blanket.
—Mary Elstob.

I went to Loma Linda. We could see the trains. We saw a streamliner and two freight trains.
—Durrell Decker.

I like to live in Carmel. We have a good time at the beach. Sometimes we dig big holes in the sand and watch the water fill them.
—Neil De Vaughn.

I was eight on Washington's birthday. The cake had Happy Birthday and my name on it. It had eight red candles. I blew them all out in one breath. We had ice cream, cake and suckers to eat. My mother brought a clown balloon for each child. We blew the balloons up and threw them up in the air. It was fun.
—Timmy Grant.

Mrs. Audrey Crawford's 3rd Grade

Saturday morning I got up to find my mother had gone into the basement to get some clothespins. While she was down there she found a beetle. She told me I could have it for my collection of insects. We put it in the window and later mounted it.

Then we went down to the beach and found some pretty shells. I learned that what we often call "fan shells" are really "lion's paws". Then we found some hermit crab shells and some shells called "jewelboxes". They were beautiful shells. I used them for my shell collection.
—Judy Sargent.

Last week we went up to Big Sur. My sister and I played in the river. We jumped on a log. It stuck on a rock and we almost fell in. My dad had to help us. We had our picnic then and afterwards we toasted marshmallows. Mine popped off and hit my sister in the eye. Then on the way home my mother suddenly stepped on the brakes and stopped the car. We got out and found a raccoon's tail in the road.
—Pat Harney.

Last Saturday I ate bananas, suckers and peanuts all day long. I ate them while Mike and I made a fort up in the woods. Then we went over to Parker Pollocks house and got him to play with us and make a dam. Then we slowly let it break.
—Tommy Hagar.

One of our classmates had to move away. Her name is Carol Whitesides. We miss her very much.

We have three new people too. Their names are Carolyn Miller from Pacific Grove, Kathie Armstrong who came from Texas, and Lacey Donaldson who came from

Audubon Convention At Asilomar In April

Western states representatives of the National Audubon Society will hold a conference at Asilomar over the weekend of April 1, 2 and 3, with members of affiliated Audubon Societies being the guests of the local organization. President of the Monterey Peninsula branch of the Audubon Society is William A. Angwin of Jack's Peak. General chairman for the convention will be F. S. Ruth, zoology instructor at Monterey Peninsula College. He is also the local representative for the national organization.

Oakland. We are glad to have them with us.

Art students from the college will be in charge of the showing of the Audubon art tour, composed of oils, tempera and water colors by the nation's leading art-naturalists. These will not be on sale, but there will be an additional exhibition which will be on sale to the public.

The convention will be open to the public with a registration fee of $1.00, plus an Asilomar entrance fee of 25 cents.

Among the speakers who will be present are: Mrs. Laurel Reynolds, Audubon Screen Tour lecturer; Mr. Floyd J. Brown, director of the Audubon Nature camp of California; Miss Mary Piedler, regional supervisor of the Girl Scouts; Mr. Fred Cronemiller of the U. S. Forest Service; Mrs. W. D. Shearer, president of the California Garden Clubs; the Honorable T. M. Irwin, chairman of the State Assembly Committee on Fish and Game will be the speaker at the banquet on Saturday evening, April 2. Banquet tickets may be obtained at $2.50 from F. S. Ruth now.

Field trips within a fifteen mile radius will be conducted on Sunday, April 3, by members of the staff of the Audubon Nature Camp of California. The public is invited to attend these trips also.

Time for another love affair with your Buick

Any day now comes one of spring's biggest thrills—that first carefree cruise into the country on the wings of your Buick—with the air warm and full of promise, and you falling in love with your Buick all over again!

We want you to get the most out of this affair, because we've been around Buicks so much we have a deep and loving interest in them, too—so we've got everything all set in our shop to get your car all set for the season.

Changing your oil—flushing out your cooling system—these are only starting points for us! Any machine as fine as your Buick deserves a complete check-up and tune-up—and we have the men, the tools, the experience, to do it as no one else quite can!

Drop in this week and let us fix a time for bringing your Buick beauty up to its new-car thrill-level. For that magic Saturday morning, sometime soon, when there's a heady invitation in the air to get under way someplace—be ready?

Dr. Francis Entertained

A dinner party for Dr. Kenneth Francis was given by Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Kocher at their Carmel Highlands home last Saturday evening.

Dr. Kocher and Dr. Francis met during the war, at the time both were on the staff at Letterman Hospital in service with the armed forces. Having divided his practice between Carmel and San Jose, Dr. Francis will shortly confine it to Carmel.

In addition to Dr. Francis, the Kochers' guests for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Wurzmann, Mr. and Mrs. John Gilbert and Miss Barbara Ferron of San Jose.

Carmel Woman's Club

Members of the Carmel Woman's Club were privileged last Monday to hear Curtis F. Nagel comment on his film of the Scandinavian countries. No ordinary travel film, Mr. Nagel's picture gives the audience a sense of participation in the actual trip and manages to convey an unusual feeling for the people of the countries visited. In fact, most members took away with them a warm sense of admiration for the people, their customs and culture.

The beauty of the colored films is breathtaking, and the subject is handled with great taste, particularly in the manner by which educational matter interspersed with interesting side-lights. The Club's choice of Mr. Nagel as guest speaker was indeed a fortunate one.

Presiding at the general meeting was Mrs. Benjamin Johnson, president, and the speaker was introduced by Mrs. Verne Skillman.

Mrs. F. E. Naftzger was ably assisted by Mr. Hanley Allen, Mrs. C. Gilbert Campbell, Mrs. Della Williams, Mrs. William R. Garguilo and Mrs. Mary Hooper. Miss Blanche O'Neill poured tea for the members, and the table was arranged by Miss Flora Hartwell with aloes and loquat leaves in a copper bowl.

The president thanked the workers and committee men who had helped to make the rummage sale of March 3 such a great success. Proceeds of over $1,500, something of a record for a rummage sale, will go toward the debt on the club building.

Perry Osborns Entertained

Among the many Peninsula people entertaining for the A. Perry Osborns have been Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. B. Morse, who last Saturday gave a luncheon at their Pebble Beach home, and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney W. Fish, who entertained last week for the visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Osborn are here from New York for the winter and are staying at the Cypress Point Club.

To Live In Carmel

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Amos W. Flemings, who were married on Washington's Birthday in the Fort Ord Post Chapel, will make their home here after returning from a honeymoon in Palm Springs.

Both the bride, the former Lt. Victoria P. Dunn, and the groom are stationed at Fort Ord.

JANE VIAL, SOCIAL EDITOR

Illinois Visitors

Enjoying a vacation on the Peninsula are Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Gardner of Lake Forest, Illinois. Two luncheons honored the Gardners last week, one given by Mr. and Mrs. George W. Nickel and another by Douglas Grant.

Friends of the Gardners from Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Hunter, joined them this week and will stay on at Del Monte Lodge for a week or so.

Returns From France

Mrs. Marie de Dampierre is again in her Hatton Fields Mesa home after a "business before pleasure" trip of three months in France. There to oversee repairs to the de Dampierre country house in southwest France, between Bordeaux and La Rochelle, the traveler had little or no time for playing. The trip was satisfactory, as she put it, but winter is not her choice of the time to visit Europe.

On her return Mrs. de Dampierre visited her elder son and his wife in New York City. He other son, Michele, is here in Carmel with her at present.

AWVS Shop To Open

The new AWVS shop will be opened on March 15, it was announced at the monthly meeting of the Monterey County Unit of the American Women's Voluntary Services. Mrs. James W. Moore, shop chairman, reported that it will be open from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily except Sunday. The shop is located at 707 Del Monte Avenue, Seaside.

The purpose of the shop is to raise funds to enable the AWVS to implement its program of service work, and to provide an "exchange" for the surrounding communities and particularly for service personnel. Practically any article in good condition is acceptable, and a list of the members of the Collection Committee will appear in the Pine Cone next week.

In addition to articles for the shop, Mrs. Josephine Johnson, chairman of the AWVS-USO committee, has again asked for small games, musical instruments, sheet music, records, playing cards, etc.

New members added to the roll at this meeting were: Mrs. Hanley Allen, Mrs. Della C. Williams, Mrs. Louis Nicoud, Miss Eleanor Hansen, Mrs. Elmer Bingaman, Mrs. R. Atherton, Miss Rachel Denslow, Mrs. Don English and Mrs. Lloyd Thayer.

Members of the shop committee met on Monday morning to make final plans for the opening of this new service.

Back And Away Again

Mrs. Walter C. Adams, who's just returned from a five months' visit in Honolulu, says she's glad to be back in Carmel, although it does seem a wee bit cooler. We don't know whether to believe her or not, for she'd hardly got settled when she dashed off, accompanied by her sister, Miss Charlotte Collins, to spend a week in San Francisco.

We understand she enjoyed her Honolulu visit with her daughter, Mrs. J. Paul Leebrick, Jr., but the high point of her stay was welcoming the arrival of a new granddaughter.

Irish Are Coming

March 17 is going to be a green-letter-day for Carmel, by way of an Irish musical comedy to be staged at Crespi Hall adjoining Carmel Mission.

Little Bit of Heaven will be presented by an outstanding local cast, including the ever popular Lee Crowe in the leading role supported by Mrs. Ruth McElroy. Jigs and songs will be offered by the children of Junipero Serra School.

The play is sponsored by the newly organized Mission Carmel Court 1496 of the Catholic Daughters of America. Part of the proceeds will go toward a club room for the youth center at the Mission.

Tickets are on sale at our leading stores displaying posters; general admission is $1 and high school students 50 cents.

Retire In Carmel

Colonel and Mrs. Jesse Thomas Harris recently moved into the Kiplinger cottage on Monte Verde and Eleventh Street and are planning to build a home in Carmel.

Colonel Harris relinquished his command of Fort Lawton, Seattle, Washington, on February 28, and retired at his own request after 30 years of regular Army service.

Men Of The Wayfarer

William M. O'Donnell will be the guest speaker at the regular dinner meeting of the Men of The Wayfarer on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. The speaker's subject will be his recent trip to Europe, and he will show his pictures of the trip.

Ted Fehring will preside at the meeting, and reservations for the dinner should be made in advance.

All Saints' Church

The first report meeting of teams in the current drive for funds for All Saints' Church will be held in the Parish House tonight at 7:30, instead of 8 p.m. as previously announced.

About 50 men and women attended last Friday's meeting for the selection of team captains and the initiation of the intensified drive.

Return From West Indies

We haven't seen Mrs. Pat Hudgins, but we're awfully envious of the marvelous tan Helen Heavey is sporting after the pair's trip to the West Indies.

Miss Heavey and Miss Virginia Jones drove to New York to meet Mrs. Hudgins when she returned from a South American cruise. From there they drove to Florida where they left the car and took to wings, flying to Jamaica, Cuba, and Haiti. Although they had been discouraged against going to Haiti, it was this place that they enjoyed most, finding the native culture particularly interesting. For mementos of their stay there, they brought back a carved wood head and a painting which they particularly liked.

Wayfarer Auxiliary

The Women's Auxiliary of the Church of the Wayfarer will meet next Tuesday for a salad-luncheon at 12:30 in the social hall of the Church.

Mrs. Walter Kreisler will conduct the business meeting, and Mrs. Guy L. Kell is in charge of the luncheon. The program will include readings by Grace McKay and vocal selections by Dorothea B. Gray, soprano, accompanied by Margaret Aitkenhead. Mrs. George Pierson will present the devotions.

Second Fashion Show

Carmel women turned out again for the second fashion show of the season at the Pine Inn Garden Room to view the latest in spring styles from the Cinderella Shop.

Ellen Leeds, lovely and able commentator for these events, wore a striking double-breasted coat dress of Forstman's wool sharkskin in pearl gray. A soft pleat in the front and in the back of the skirt lent gentle fullness to the skirt, and the three-quarter length sleeves had large cuffs. A pink felt coachman's hat by Knox complemented the costume, which was worn with brown accessories.

Mrs. Ralph Buchan's pretty Irish looks did full justice to the tailored suit in Kelly Green gabardine by Adele of California. With it she wore a rough straw sailor by Knox.

Miss Doris Hill modeled the perfect California suit in the popular spring Navy. The pert two-piece suit of wool gabardine would be ideal for travel, and the ribbon beret, too, since the Knox number is very "packable."

A good hand-knit is an addition to any wardrobe, practical and long wearing, and the one shown in Lime could be worn all day and still be good for the most gala event of late afternoon or evening. Hopsacking is showing up in many of the new Paris collections, and Adele of California has turned one out in Stroock's material which is really elegant. This full length coat with three pockets looks wonderful in white, but in any other pastel, too, it would see you through both spring and summer.

Outstanding, we thought, was the three-piece costume suit of a woven material, almost in the knit classification, which will not sag or wrinkle. Remove the bright Chili jacket and the woven gold and white blouse automatically dresses you up (interesting to note that the gold threads are of a non-tarnishable plastic.)

We liked the pure silk printed shantung dress worn by Mrs. William Hess. The print, on a turquoise background, was reminiscent of India prints.

Also shown were an afternoon or cocktail dress in a silk tie print, especially complimentary to the 5'5" or under woman; a shepard plaid suit topped off with a straw hat with quills; a silk shantung spectator sports outfit, with a tiny peplum emphasizing the small waist, with which was worn a Knox poke with green feather accents; a pin dot with a portrait neckline and soft fullness in the skirt (and don't forget dots are important this season;) a dreamy pink linen of charming simplicity.

The lovely Mrs. Jack Baurer was also among the models.

The Fashion Show next Wednesday will be sponsored by the Country Shop, and reservations may be made by calling Carmel 600.

Ski Trip Shortened

Loli and George Willox are back in Carmel, having cut short their stay in Sun Valley after George had a slight but unfortunate accident. "Snow perfect, weather fine, and I had to pull a ligament in my ankle on my sixth run!" George is moaning.

Bert's A Grandpa Again

Herbert Heron, our former mayor, received news of the birth of his third grandchild, a boy this time, on March 2. The baby, whose name has not yet been chosen, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Heron and has two sisters, Patty and Laurie.

The new arrival's paternal grandmother is Mrs. Frederick Search of Carmel Valley, his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Glascock of Fresno.

Stephensons' First

That dreamy look on Bob Stephenson's face isn't Spring; it's due to the fact that Patty presented him with a son, their first child, last Friday. The proud Mrs. Stephenson was wandering around so nonchalantly taking care of last minute appointments that we were afraid she'd forget to go to the Peninsula Community Hospital, but it all turned out fine.

Robert Craig, as he has been named, is the grandson on his mother's side of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Shattuck of Seattle, and his paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William A. Stephenson of Los Angeles.

Speaker For Women Demos

Langdon Post will be the guest speaker at the next meeting of the Carmel Women's Democratic Club, to be held at 2:30 p.m. on Friday, March 18, in the Sunset School cafeteria.

Mr. Post, wartime federal director of public housing on the West Coast, will have as his subject, Present Day Housing.

Inasmuch as the address will be non-political, the public is cordially invited to attend, it has been announced by Mrs. Paul Low, president. Following the talk, a brief business meeting of the club will be held.

Naval Reserve Invitation

The local naval reserve division will throw open its doors to the public this Saturday night for a dance to be given at its training center at 100 Lighthouse Avenue, Monterey. Tickets, one of which will win a door prize, may be bought from any member of the reserve unit or at the door on Saturday night, and the proceeds from the event will go to the division's welfare fund.

Sergeant Paul's Fort Ord orchestra will furnish music for dancing, beginning at 9 p.m., and there will be special entertainment during the evening.

Lt. Comdr. Ted M. Gottlieb, Commanding Officer of the local division, urges all Carmel residents to attend the dance and see the elaborate equipment and buildings which the Navy has made available in this area for the proper training of naval reservists.

Heading the welfare committee and in charge of arrangements is Lt. (j.g.) M. J. Conway, who is assisted by J. A. Monson, Michael F. Flynn, L. S. Bracisco, S. D. Pendlay, L. W. Williams and P. J. Giamona.

Entertain For Daughter

Mrs. Edmund J. Doering II and her small son Teddy are here from Chicago visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Castle of Pebble Beach. The Castles recently gave a cocktail party followed by a buffet supper in honor of their daughter.

Mrs. Doering and Teddy are returning to Chicago at the end of the week, but she promises to return with Mr. Doering in the summer.

Treat Guests

Guests of Mrs. Fred Treat, Sr. are her son-in-law and daughter, Colonel and Mrs. Thomas McGregor. The McGregors, who have just returned after two years in Japan, will remain in Carmel until the end of the month, when they will travel to Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Treat recently entertained Major General and Mrs. Anthony McAuliff, who were passing through on their way from Washington to Japan.

Mrs. Robert Fitch Here

Mrs. Robert Fitch is here from Chicago for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Florence Sharon Brown, and her sisters, Mrs. James Doud and Mrs. John Geisen.

Mrs. James Hatlo recently honored the former Willette Allen at a tea, and Mrs. Byington Ford, among the many friends who are entertaining for the visitor, gave a luncheon at the Holman Ranch last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitch have been living in Chicago for the past few years, and Mrs. Fitch reports that she will be most happy when, upon her return, they will move to a small town again, this time in southern Indiana where her husband has been transferred by the company with which he is associated.

Sing a song of Spring with fragrant violets from FLOR DE MONTEREY! You can't help but be in a gay mood with a nosegay of these bright posies to remind you that winter is just about over. Pin a few in your hair or on your dress, and watch your spirits soar! Decorate your home, too, with golden daffodils or with carnations in all colors, including bright red, white, and pale, delicate pink. Stately, long-lasting gladiolus, and sweet-scented narcissus are also ready and waiting for you at FLOR DE MONTEREY. Potted greenery is another good way to dress up the living room or even the kitchen, and here you can get everything from fern to caladium! Seeing is believing, so stop in soon, won't you, at FLOR DE MONTEREY? 217 Franklin Street in Monterey—phone 7885.

Attention, Skiers! If you're planning to get in any more time in the snow this year, you'll naturally be mighty interested in the latest from TWIGS OF CARMEL. They're the cutest little caps—Fast Caps—designed to fit snugly like a hood, and keep your ears warm. Hand knits, they come in all sorts of colors, with gay designs, cable stitch, and tassel ties. Louise, one of the Sargent sisters of TWIGS, reports that Fast Caps are what everybody's wearing at Sun Valley, and no wonder! Order 'em now in colors to match your ski sweater. Hint: they'd make a grand gift, too, for that person who "has just everything." Fast Caps are just $5.00 at TWIGS OF CARMEL, in the Golden Bough Court, right across Ocean Avenue from the Pine Inn.

Time for Spring tonic, and you're going to love this one! For an exuberant feeling to start the season, there's nothing like new clothes, those neatly tailored and stylish outfits from HARRIET DUNCAN'S, of course. Stunningly smart doeskin flannel jackets will make you look fashion wise. And those warm, soft Caledonia Cashmere sweaters I told you about are here now! They're going out of the shop almost as quickly as they came in, though, so you'll have to hurry for your choice of all the dreamy pastel colors. You'll sigh as I did over a set in pale green or delicate pink, so perfect, for this season! There are lots of smart skirts to match, too. Strooks, gaberdines, tweeds. Oh, you'll want to team up all your favorites for high fashion in tailored Spring sportswear. You can't go wrong at HARRIET DUNCAN'S, Sixth and Lincoln.

No more tiring days of back-breaking bending and scrubbing for you, not when you've discovered the LITTLE GEM LAUNDRAMATIC! It's the easiest thing in the world just to toss the laundry into a machine and trot off to do your shopping. Everything's done when you come back! Clothes and linens dried, too, if you like. Junipero and Fourth for the LITTLE GEM.

The VILLAGE CORNER, Carmel's rendezvous for daytime or late evening snacks, will be closed for nine days for Spring house-cleaning, beginning Sunday night, March 13. The place will receive as thorough a going-over as your house does at cleaning time, including a scrub-down and fresh coat of paint. Watch for the reopening of the VILLAGE CORNER, rejuvenated and ready to serve you.

It's smart to start thinking early about Easter cards and such, and with the BY THE SEA SHOP right on the job, you're all set. Everything in Easter messages is to be found in the colorful array of greeting cards maintained by the Edwards. Large or small, be-ribboned or plain, they're all there, from ducks and bunnies to the sweet and sedate. You're sure to find just what you want at the BY THE SEA SHOP, Dolores and Sixth.

VICTORIA'S Candy Chews from THE MONTEREY HEALTH FOOD CENTER are deliciously different, made from vegetables, alfalfa, honey, mint leaves, and corn sugar, yet taste like real quality candy, but lower in calories and give much more energy. Get them at the CENTER, 146 Bonifacio—just across from First National Bank in Monterey.

"In your Easter Bonnet, with all the frills upon it"—Just picture yourself on Easter morn in a gay Easter hat from the HOUR GLASS. Such an array of adorable bonnets you never did see! New natural straws with bright spring flowers, and lovely felt beanies, softened with veiling, make the perfect topping for any Easter outfit. There are also separate flowers and sprays to adorn your hats, as well as crisp veiling, feathers, and all sorts of other trimmin's. More of those cute little half-hats for cocktail time are new, too, at the HOUR GLASS. Sixth and Dolores, around the corner on your way to the Post Office.

Friends Entertained

The house taken by Mrs. Roland M. Klemme of St. Louis was the scene Sunday of a delightful cocktail party for her many local friends. Enjoying cocktails and an impressive buffet were Mr. and Mrs. K. Hovden, Mr. and Mrs. Abel Warshawsky, Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie Courvoisier, Colonel and Mrs. Alfred S. Balsam, Lt. Col. Herschel Colbert, Maj. Elliott Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dienelt, Miss Mary Mallory, Miss Melodi Brien, Miss Ellen Leeds, Mr. George Hoy, Mr. William Justema, Mr. Henry Dunakin, Mr. Bill Bell and Mr. P. A. McCreery.

Carmel PTA

In a three point talk on dental care and the progress of new drugs in the prevention of dental decay, Dr. R. M. McArthur of Carmel presented a most interesting afternoon for the Carmel PTA on Tuesday.

Dr. McArthur spoke first of sodium fluoride, its use and limitations in the prevention of dental caries, stressing the fact that it is not the cure-all claimed by many advertisements. It has been used with marked success in some cases, but its use is still in the experimental stages.

Second, he spoke of the ammonium-urea combination contained in a number of new dentifrices now on the market. This has proven dental caries.

Dr. McArthur stressed the importance of brushing one's teeth after each meal, since food particles lodged between teeth and gums are a decided factor in promoting decay.

Last, the surest prevention of caries is in diet. Dr. McArthur said, pointing out that sugar is the number one offender. A well balanced diet, he contended, will provide enough energy from other sources. Candy, cake and frosting, "coke," ice cream and soda pop are prime villains.

The talk closed with an outline of the dental program of the forthcoming Health Department plans for next year, about which more will be heard when schools reopen in September.

Mrs. Mark Raggett presided at the meeting, during which Mrs. Howard Clark, Mrs. Roderick Wilson and Mrs. G. Ridgley Parker were elected to the nominating committee. Mrs. Paul Chedester, program chairman, introduced Dr. McArthur.

JUNIORS RUN OFF WITH HONORS IN INTERCLASS TRACK MEET

Paced by Legare McNeill's 14 point, the Junior class scored 75 points to completely submerge the rest of the classes in the annual interclass track meet at Carmel High School. The Seniors managed to tally 20 points, but they were no match for the loaded third year men. Al Greene and Jim Moran picked up two first places for the Sophomores to put them in third place. Henry Overin paced the Freshmen with 5 points.

The Juniors also copped the lightweight title, outdistancing the Seniors, 41 to 31. The Freshmen were third, and the Sophomores trailed. Ed Goodrick, with 17 points, was high scorer for the winning Junior class.

GENE VANDERVORT AND DICK GARGIULO ON ALL-LEAGUE HOOP SQUAD

Carmel High School placed two basketball players on the B division all-league eight man squad when coaches and players of the loop voted the honor to Dick Gargiulo and Gene Vandervort. Gargiulo was third high scorer in league games and had a fine defensive average. Vandervort was considered the top set shot in the league and was improving with each game. Gargiulo is a senior, while Vandervort has another season of basketball at Carmel High School.

Pacific Grove placed four of their starters on the squad and most of the pickers must have been looking out the window when they didn't nominate Joe Sieve, six foot-five center, for the squad. Sieve was the finest center in either the B or A leagues and will be heard from in college. Delormier, Donlan, Wilson, and Kelley were the four PG starters who made the squad. Gonzales placed one player, Bolin, as did King City, McIntosh.

A closed meeting for class members only will be held tonight for the Adult Education Color Photography section.

On Monday at 7:30 p.m., the class will meet in the music room of Sunset School, at which time Myron Oliver will show transparency slides and his movie of Vera Cruz.

On Thursday, March 17, the class will convene in the auditorium for a special lecture and movies by Dr. Ralph Weston. His subject will be Pets and Their Care, and will be followed by a question period.

These popular classes, under the direction of Leota Tucker, are open to the public on Monday and Thursday.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO ENGAGE IN THE SALE OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES

March 9, 1949

To Whom It May Concern: Subject to issuance of the license applied for, and commencing not less than 15 days after the date posted, notice is hereby given that the undersigned proposes to sell alcoholic beverages at these premises, described as follows: Hwy 1—3 miles South of Big Sur Bridge, Big Sur, California.

Pursuant to such intention, the undersigned is applying to the State Board of Equalization for issuance by transfer of an alcoholic beverage license (or licenses) for these premises as follows:

"A" On Sale Beer and Wine, "P" On Sale Distilled Spirits. Anyone desiring to protest the issuance of such license(s) may file a verified protest with the State Board of Equalization at Sacramento, California, stating grounds for denial as provided by law. The premises are now licensed for the sale of alcoholic beverages. WILLIAM E. FASSETT

Legion Auxiliary

The regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary was held on Tuesday evening at the Legion Hall.

Mrs. Anne Ewig, initiation officer, presided at the initiation of a new member, Mrs. John Chitwood. Other new members, to be initiated at a later meeting are Mrs. Gordon Campbell, Mrs. Truman Scarlett and Mrs. Sven Andersen.

Plans were discussed for the Auxiliary's food sale to be held at the end of Lent.

Uptons Off To Mexico

John and Marian Upton left on Wednesday night for a trip to Mexico, via Guaymas, where they will make a stop-over, Guadalajara, and finally to Lake Chapala. At Chapala they will have Zoe Kernick's house in Ajicic for a couple of weeks, after which they hope to find a place of their own in that vicinity. After the usual quota of "shots," which they telescoped into one week, they should be well insulated against bugs such as the one that has Rosalinde (Sharpe) Wall laid up.

Eighth Stilwell Grandchild

March 8 marked the arrival of the eighth grandchild in the Stilwell family with the birth of Catherine Cameron, new daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. William R. Cameron, the former Allison Stilwell. The Camerons are at present in Alabama, where Lt. Col. Cameron is stationed at Maxwell Air Force Base.

The arrival of Catherine brings to eight the number of grandchildren for Mrs. W. Stilwell, since there are two other granddaughters and five grandsons.

"Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen" (Hebrews 11:1). This is the Golden Text of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches for Sunday, March 13. The subject is "Substance."

Included in the sermon are the following citations:

The Bible: "Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy" (1 Timothy 6:17).

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christianity causes men to turn naturally from matter to Spirit, as the flower turns from darkness to light" (p. 458).

Jonathan Jenkins

Jonathan Jenkins, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Jenkins of Pebble Beach, was killed Wednesday afternoon in a tragic accident at his home, when he was strangled by a dog leash while playing in his room.

Coroner Elmer Machado reported that the boy was found with one end of the leash around his neck and the other tangled at the top of the window sill. He had been confined to his home because of a cold. His body was discovered at 3:30 by Mrs. Harry Bogan, wife of the Jenkins' gardener. The Carmel fire department resuscitator squad, and two physicians worked for almost two hours on the boy to no avail.

Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins, who have lived in Pebble Beach for seven years, also have a ranch in the San Joaquin Valley near Livingston. He is survived by his parents, a brother, Peter, and a sister, Barbara.

The boy had been a student at Sunset school since 1945, and was in Mrs. Ann Uzzell's fifth grade class.

Private services were held yesterday afternoon at the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, with the Mission Mortuary in charge of arrangements.

office, and the curtain will go up at 8:00 p. m.

One of the interesting features of the play will be the dress worn by Kathie von Meier, as Jane, in the wedding scene. It originally belonged to Emelie Melville, the well-known star of the old Bush Street Theatre in San Francisco in the 1880's and 90's. The dress was made for her by Worth of Paris. It has been generously loaned to the Senior Class by Mrs. Mariquita Derby Brey, the director of the play.

Contest Winners Speak Before Lions

Sali Dalton, local winner of the Carmel Lions Club oratory contest on the subject of the United Nations, and Patricia Timbers, runner-up, gave their talks before the organization at the regular Tuesday night meeting.

Next week's meeting will be held on Monday night in order to avoid conflicting with the symphony concert, and, at that time, Miss Dalton, with the winners from Monterey and Pacific Grove high schools will deliver their speeches to determine the district winner. Subject is "The United Nations — Safeguard of Human Liberty."

Charles Leavitt reported that Bill Walker is the new cubmaster for the three Boy Scout dens sponsored by the Carmel group.

Twelve members of the Monterey Peninsula Male Choir sang a group of six numbers, accompanied by Margaret Aikenhead. Edgar Leslie was sworn in as a new member of the Lions.

Girl Scout News

March 12 is the birthday of the Girl Scouts, and both Scouts and Brownies will celebrate the event with a roller skating party at Pacific Grove Skateland (Brownies from 10 a. m. to 12 noon; Intermediates from 12 noon to 2 p. m.)

Carmel Scout Leaders met with other Peninsula Leaders for a potluck supper at the Pacific Grove Scout House on March 2, with Troop Committee Members as their guests. A short business meeting was held, Mrs. Peter Bramhall presiding.

Junior Council members will meet March 16 at 4:15 p. m. at the Monterey Girl Scout House, and the third Wednesday of each month thereafter, it was announced.

Plans were discussed for the Girl Scout International picnic to be held April 24 at the Monterey Fair Grounds, and leaders were reminded to notify the Girl Scout office as to the country to be represented by their troops.

Colored movies of last summer's day camp activities were shown by Chaplain John R. Wright. A permanent summer camp at Big Sur is on the Scout's program for this summer.

KIWANIS CLUB FORMED

Sponsored by the Monterey Kiwanis Club, a group of Carmel men met at dinner at Pine Inn Wednesday night to organize a local branch of the National Kiwanis.

Officers elected were: president, Harold Neilson; vice-president, Arthur Hull; treasurer, Arne Halle; directors, Frank Miller, Harry Hilbert, George Mosolf, Thomas Elston, Kenneth Smith, Ralston Sumner and Gene Ricketts.

Meetings will be held every Thursday noon at Pine Inn.
